So I've been going there
every so often
to get some time alone.

I tugged at
the back door
one day just
to see if I could get in, and
the lock broke.

It's my secret
hideout

Afterglow Noise

We're in different classes, but I know exactly who she is.

We are?

We're in the same year at school.

You...

you look kinda familiar.

Her name's
Shibutani
Arimi.

She's the kind-of girl who stands out with her trendy galish style.

She's never said a word to me before.

She hangs with other girls who are into the hottest fashions.

having this refuge meant
so much to me.

That's
why...

And with a superficial friendship
like that,
you're always walking
on egg
shells

Back
again?

Hey!

Not that someone like you would understand, Shibutani-san.

I just like to be alone sometimes.

I wish you wouldn't treat me like an idiot.

Huh? What's that supposed to mean?

What do you even do here, all alone?

You're always here.

Nothing much.

Well, long story short, she didn't tell anyone about this place after all.

She just kept on dropping in after school or when she was ditching class.

and what your position is in a group? It's such a headache. It makes me want to just scream.

Don't you just hate having to constantly worry about whether you're picking up on the right cues, and if you might do or say something to start a fight with someone,

So instead of "alone time," I was idling away the hours with a girl I wasn't even friends with. It was kind of weird.

Can't you just be yourself?

You're weird.

Why do you have to make it so complicated?

So I like to get away from all that sometimes and be alone.

I'm taking these!

Shut up!

You're too rude.

I knew you wouldn't get it.

Why is she so comfortable around me? We're not friends. We've barely even spoken to each other.

Huh?

So?

Um...
These are
mine, too,
though?!

You can just relax when you're with me, okay?

Don't worry about all that stuff that makes you want to scream.

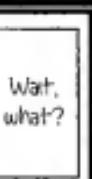

I wasn't...
Not right now...

But...

Even though I'm not alone...

Wait, what?

I really wasn't!

And just when I think she has no shame,
she says something weirdly
nice.

It's bizarre.
I've never met
someone like
her before.

I'm not telling.

What is..

this sweet, tight feeling
in my chest?

How weird.

What
could it be?

But I guess you already did anyway once I started coming here, huh?

Yeah...

They're gonna tear this place down.

You'll lose your place to be alone.

Huh?

No...

It's not about that anymore.

what's going to happen
to us?

was empty, like a vacant house.

and took up residence there.

Until she rudely barged in without so much as a by-your-leave

But she turned all that on its head. And then she left. How could she do that to me?

That friends were all just interchangeable anyway...

I used to think it was better to be alone.

Now it's my turn to be the intruder. I have to invade her territory.

Unlike
me, I bet
she has her door thrown
wide open,
welcoming all sorts of people in.
Right?

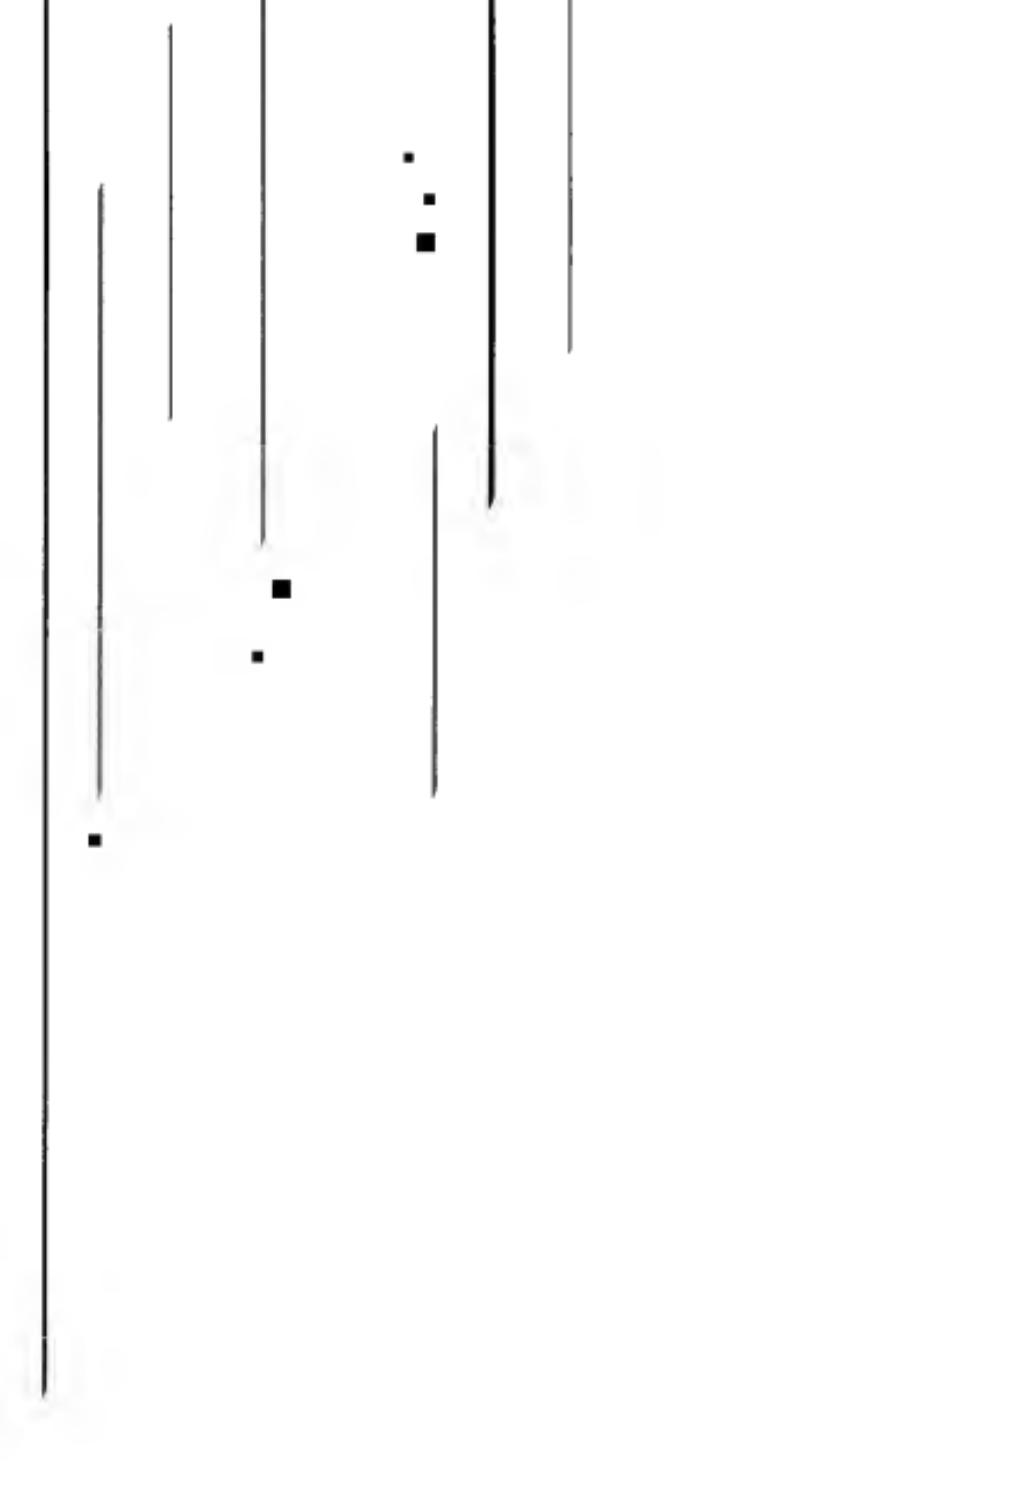

Well...

In that case...

I want to barge
all the way to
the heart of it
and make myself
at home.
